Open-source Software

Technology Consulting Service

- Where Sorintians ardently embrace innovation, unlock boundless openness, foster creativity and unveil new horizons.

- Unlike proprietary software, open-source projects are accessible to the public. Enabling free reading, usage, reconfiguration, and modification.

- Open-source projects are a collaborative effort involving volunteers and contributors worldwide. In most cases, governed by licenses that guarantee code quality and transparency.

- SORINT.lab provides premium, enterprise-grade support services for open-source solutions. Tools like:

  - Proactive Database Software Asset Management
  - Firewalling
  - Automation for CI/CD
  - Organization hierarchy representation
  - Cloud native PostgreSQL manager

Pillars of Open-source

Compelling reasons

Transparency
Easily evaluated. No malicious code. No vendor lock-in & open standards.

Customizable and adaptability
In contrast to proprietary software, users enjoy the freedom to modify every aspect. Adapting to various industries and use case.

Collaboration, education, & innovation
A rich worldwide knowledge and experience sharing. Continuous improvement with space to innovation to match needs and scaling.

Lifespan
The open nature of the code allows continuity by any developer/team. No dependency.

Security
Regular code review and faster identification and resolution of security issues.

Cost-effective
Free of charge.
